

*The university,
temple of knowledge,
embodiment of an idea,
a dream, a destiny.
Enter at dawn
through the porthole of ivy
into a new and throbbing
world of thought and genius,
where ancient man
stands face to face
with modern man and youth.*

DEDICATION TO FREDERICK C. STEVENS

Thirty-six years ago a man came to Susquehanna to teach music in the Conservatory. After twelve years of devoted service he left to head the music department at Lycoming College. But he couldn't stay for long, and returned to our campus a few years later as assistant professor of sociology.

He holds a memorable spot in the hearts and minds of all who know him. Certainly his love for people and for music can never be forgotten by those who were privileged to know him in the '30s as director of the best Motet Choir in the East.

In recognition of your ability to accomplish your ideals, your understanding of student life, and your continual services to Susquehanna University, we are proud to dedicate The 1966 LANTHORN to you, Mr. Frederick Stevens.

*The belief of youth,
far-flung
yet here and now,
recognizing a purpose,*

*pressing toward a goal,
anticipating fulfillment,
shatters the virgin silence of early morning
in its quest for truth.*

*Rich with a vision,
youth knocks upon the university door.
Through the hallowed halls,
it runs rampant.*

*Peeping curiously
into every niche and cranny,
eager to learn and know.
And it finds much . . .*

DEANS

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE SENIOR CLASS:

Years ago I ran across a fine definition of "remembrance" in the course of my reading and study and I copied it from the book whose title and author have long since been forgotten. The unknown writer said:

"The remembrance of beauty, the beauty of a thing, or of personal relationships, or of a country, has always seemed to me the chief end of life. The present cannot be held; it slips through our grasping fingers, becomes immediately the past. The future may be neither beautiful nor worth remembering; certainly its beauty will be accompanied by ugliness and tragedy. But what has happened is ours and cannot be taken away from us; and the mind, like the gauge screen through which gold is run, transmutes in retrospect almost everything into loveliness. Remembrance is the only sure immortality we know."

Thus it will be for you as the years unroll. The memories of your four years at Susquehanna will become more and more lovely as you grow older, and we are happy that this is a future expectancy. May the rest of your life's span be as fruitful, as enthusiastic, and idealistic, as were the years we spent together in this pleasant place of learning.

CAMPUS LIFE

*A frantic momentary lull
with cigarettes, coke and chapel . . .*

OPENING CONVOCATION

*Follow the line of University dignitaries
Witness the opening convocation
of the 1965-66 term
A prayer
A portrait presentation
Graduation
An honorary degree
The address
And benediction
Now a year of promise
and problems about to begin.*

ORIENTATION

*A week of adaptation,
introduction
Dinks and name tags.
Initiation of the
wide-eyed freshmen
Into a sophisticated,
academic atmosphere.*

LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

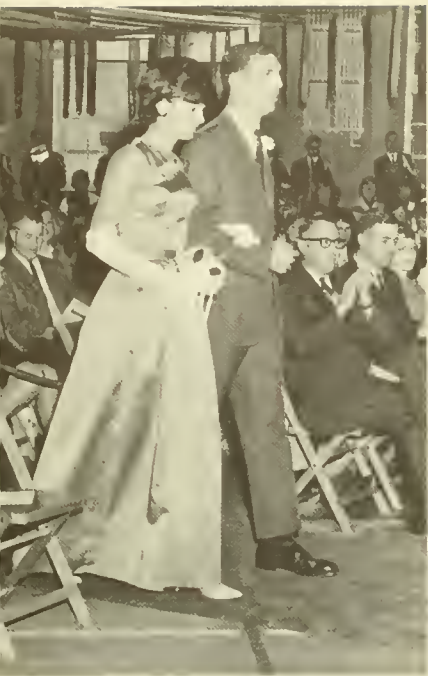

*Retreat from the routine.
A conscientious effort
To vitalize
organizational activities
And inter-campus
relationships.*

*Stand by!
Freshmen accept the challenge
To be accepted,
recognized, respected.*

*A radiant Queen
is crowned
To reign o'er
paperfloats
And topless cars,
Football and mythology.
A tradition of welcome
And spirited festivities.*

In warm rooms and cozy niches,
In delight and fascination.*

CHEERLEADERS

IN MEMORIAM

Dedicated to his administrative responsibilities at Susquehanna University for sixteen years, Mr. Dan MacCuish gave many of us, as prospective students, our first insight into Susquehanna when we met him for a college interview. His warm personality and eagerness to put us at ease was our first encounter with the Susquehanna tradition of friendliness. His concern for the individual revealed him as more than just a Director of Admissions, but as a man dedicated to serving youth and the University. In keeping with his expectations of us, let us continually strive to fulfill the potentialities which he saw within us.

*Death, the morning star of life, has claimed the man we knew.
The half-mast flag has ascended to the light beyond our sun . . .
We pay tribute to his memory, homage to our God.*

Editor's Note

As you turn the pages of the 1966 LANTHORN you will see many changes. Perhaps, more than anything else, you will wonder where the usual write-ups are for each activity, or why each picture does not have a caption. However, this year we decided to eliminate copy in most instances, and, as a result, we feel we have "added" something to the LANTHORN. We sincerely hope that the reader will find the colored pictures, faculty candids, and blank verse, to name only a few, equally rewarding and unforgettable.

Although this yearbook is representative of the work and activities of the University, it has been produced by a small group of students who have devoted many hours of their time. I would especially like to thank Mr. Tamke for all his patience and advice; Gail for her wonderful layout ideas and cooperation; Dick for the hundreds of pictures he took and developed; Bob and Linda for helping to "pull the yearbook together" at the end. However, as a seventeenth century author once wrote, "Words are but empty thanks."

C. W.

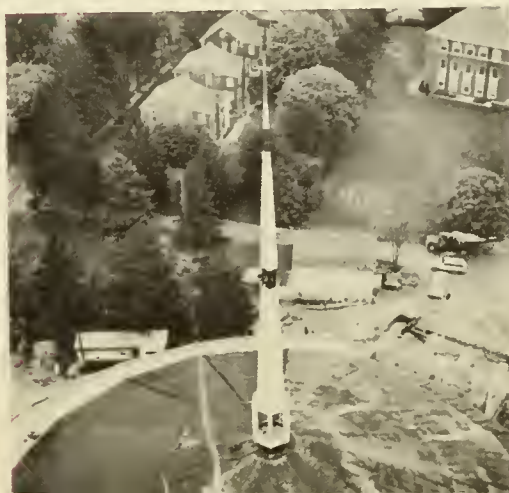

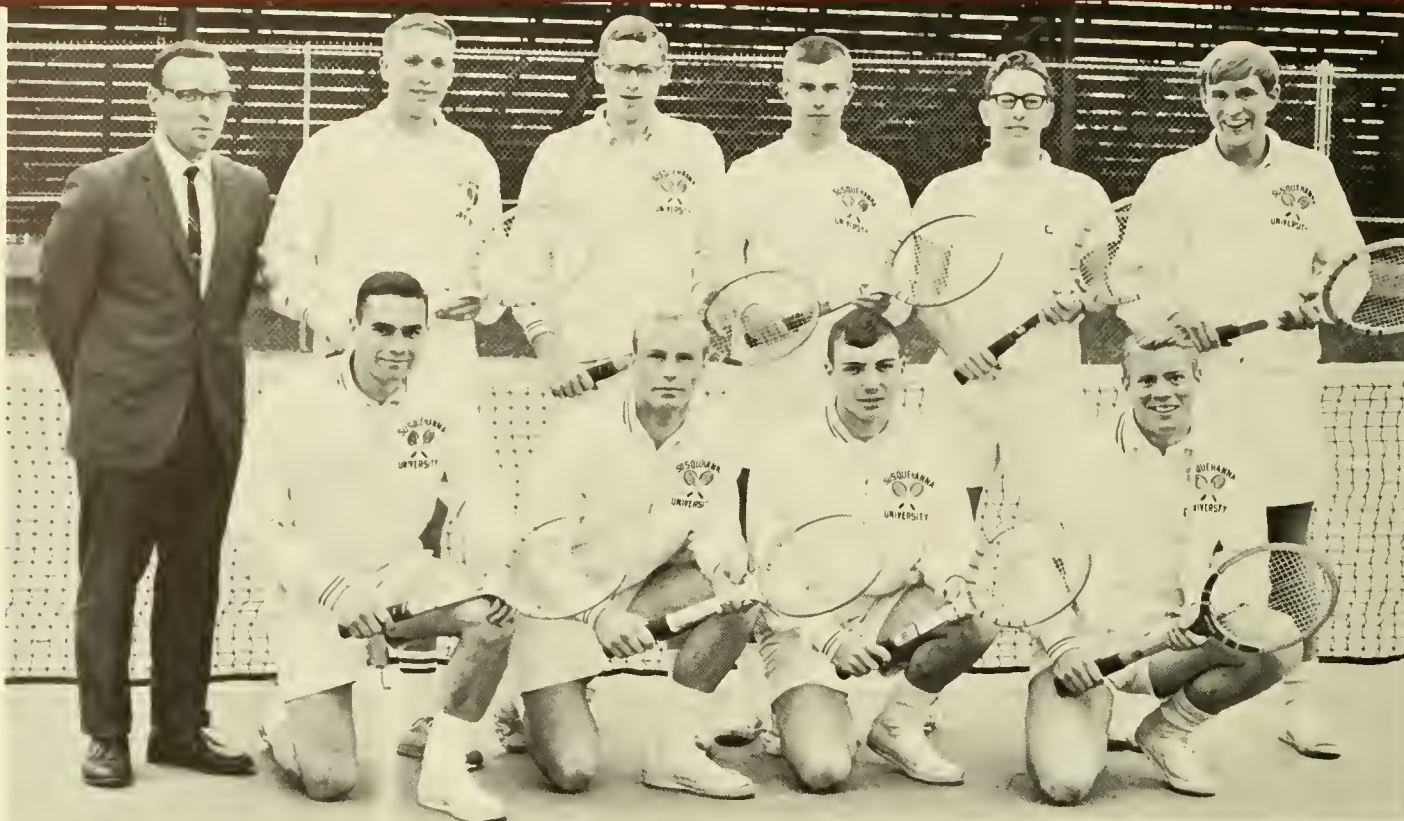

*From here youth emerges
to erect upon the cornerstone
of human experience
a life of love,
understanding and success.
Shaped by earnest preparation,
touched, colored, transformed,
he leaves the university
at high noon
to take his place
as a vital citizen
among the sons of earth.
Beyond the vivid
cloud-engulfed horizon
lay the still green and fertile meadows of the future —
there for him to grasp
and call his own . . .
before the sun goes down.*
